

It is insane to even consider making cross ownership of media sources legal.
It is time to stop siding with the money hungry corporations who do not have the peoples' interests in mind. If anything, those who are are violating the ban should be fined and prosecuted. Do your job and work for the american people instead of against our interests.
Its time to make a stand against corporate entities. Do the right thing and regulate these power hungry companies. Dangerous times are ahead if the current media trends continue. Being in the media related field, I have studied these deregulations since the early 90s and and have viewed the effects on the industry and the people it "serves".
The only people benefiting from the current system are the conglomerates.
It is time to use ethics in the decisions made relating to the "public" airwaves and information resources. End deregulation now!!!!
